Ship's Theater Restoration Project 2025

The Ship's Theater provided the crew with a break from the routine of life at sea, showing everything from training films to the latest news and entertainment from Hollywood

The Museum is raising $50,000 - $100,000 to cover the costs of restoring the ship's theater to its original appearance, while adding some modern touches for safety and performance. This project will transform the theater into a functional space to screen historical films (some recovered aboard the ship and recently digitized), serve as a classroom for our STEM and history education programs, and provide a venue for community presentations.

Funds exceeding theater restoration costs will go to Collections and Exhibitions to fund further film preservation and digitization work. In 2024, three original films found on the ship were preserved and digitized thanks to a $25,000 grant from The National Film Preservation Foundation.
